

My name is Andrew Hilfiger. I am a Menswear Fashion Designer specializing in innovative textile processes, artistic direction, technical design, and concept development. I believe in paying close attention to the details of craftsmanship and sustainably sourcing my materials. I strive to capture the visual representation of the lifestyle and music of rock n roll through clothing. Throughout my life I have been surrounded by music and fashion, from an early age performing and going on tour with my dad's rock band to working in all aspects of the fashion industry including retail, production, and design.
